WellSenior™ - Preparing for Tomorrow's Needs Today

Our WellSenior program is uniquely designed to meet the full range of needs of adults planning for future care needs who want to establish a relationship with a proven Aging Life Care Management practice. Led by our skilled team of gerontologists, it is growing in popularity with those who are single, or whose family lives out of town and are seeking support they can trust. Our caring and knowledgeable Aging Life Care Managers will provide guidance and advocacy in the event of a medical crisis, a health-related change, or when advice is needed on housing and care options.

When a new WellSenior enrolls in our program, a care manager will:

- ❖ Arrange an initial in-home visit, billed at our regular care management rates, to document care needs, gather background information regarding medical conditions, emergency contacts, medications, POAs, and other important information. Modest annual fee is charged at time of enrollment and after each annual visit.
- ❖ Coordinate brief quarterly check-ins at no charge, unless there is a change or new needs are identified.
- ❖ Visit annually to confirm accuracy of medical and other important information and to maintain relationship, billed at current care management rates.

Our dedicated team of compassionate Aging Life Care Managers® supports families, clients, and their care teams, using their nursing, social work and gerontology backgrounds to confidently guide clients towards practical solutions.

“I really appreciate having a relationship with Aging Well Eldercare, since they have the expertise we need when my mom has a medical crisis.”
